Nicaragua project goods are shipped

For the Stevens Point Journal

On Oct. 25, two large Sea Vans departed the Wisconsin/Nicaragua Project warehouse in Stevens Point carrying material goods for Nicaragua that have been collected by volunteers throughout Wisconsin.

The logistics of this shipment are made possible by the very generous support of several local corporations: Moodie Trucking, Onvoy Corp., Ferrell Gas and Wisconsin Lift Truck. Without the support of these generous corporations, Wis/Nic Partners would be very hard pressed, if not impossible, to fulfill its mission in Nicaragua. These corporations are vital to our ability to move material goods to our partner country and they deserve our very special thanks for their contributions.

A vital mutual and reciprocal relationship had existed for more than 45 years between Wisconsin and Nicaragua, where people come to realize we need each other to achieve the outcomes that ultimately will affect thousands of people in need. Resources available to Nicaraguans are scarce, but it is with the cooperation of people in Wisconsin that we are able to share what we have to make the quality of life better for both sides, not just the Nicaraguans, but also people in Wisconsin whereby their involvement helps them to realize the value in reaching out to others and how much of a difference their involvement and efforts can make.

If you would like to learn more, the next meeting of Wisconsin/Nicaragua Partners is scheduled for Dec. 3 in Stevens Point, and all are welcome. Call the office for more information at 715-346-4702, email wnp@uwsp.edu or log on to www.wisnic.org.
